Spanish words that end in z are usually nouns or adjectives.

For Spanish nouns that end in z, the "z" will turn into a "c" and followed by "es" in plural forms. For example:

la vez - las veces (many times)

la voz - las voces (a lot of voices)

el lápiz - los lápices (many pencils)

el avestruz - los avestruces (many ostriches)

Remember Spanish adjectives also have plural forms. The same plural form rule applies for Spanish adjectives that end in z: the "z" will turn into a "c" and followed by "es" in plural forms. For example:

feliz - felices (happy)

capaz - capaces (capable)

perspicaz - perspicaces (perspicacious)

precoz - precoces (precocious)
